On Monday morning, I was so excited when I got out of bed. I couldn't wait to get to school and go on a field trip with my teacher and friends.

Right after all of my classmates reached school, we lined up and rode two small vans to go to Darababad Museum. We chatted and sang loudly until we reached that place!

First we got off the vans and took a tour around the cages which were outdoors. There were a few animals in the cages. I saw rabbits, hamsters, foxes, turtles and birds like owls.

Next, we went inside and saw lots of dead wild animals that their bodies were stuffed. They were all gazing at us!

They looked so scary! A leader led us to different places around the museum.

and explained about all of the animals.

There were brown bears, polar bears, wolves, peacocks, rams, deer, reindeer, cheetahs as they were hunting sheep. There was also a fish hall. They were all alive. We saw real snakes there. Then we went another building on which outside and saw, there was a sign named "Butterfly". There were lots of beautiful butterflies. There were other insects such as cockroaches and spiders!

Later, we sat on the benches which were outside and ate our snacks. Everybody looked so happy! Finally, it was time to go back to school. It was one of the best trips I have ever been. I learned a lot of things about animals on this trip. I also enjoyed spending time with my teacher and friends out of the school! :)
